

Regent Language Training

The Regent Home Tuition Course for Young Learners 15, 20 or 25 hours a week

Regent Home Tuition course offers young learners the opportunity to have a total immersion experience of the English language in the comfort and safety of the teacher's home.

Key Features

- Tailor-made education programmes with one-to-one lessons for fast progress
- Live in a teacher's home in a total immersion environment of British life and culture
- Courses start every Monday of the year
- Home Tuition is offered in Bournemouth, Brighton, Cambridge, Edinburgh and London

Methodology and Course Content

Each course is a tailor-made one-to-one educational programme designed with a specific and personal goal orientated focus in mind.

Young learners are carefully matched to one of our experienced Home Tuition teachers who personally designs the intensive one-to-one.

We conduct a needs analysis to identify specific areas of strength and weakness. The Home Tuition teacher then uses this information to help the client overcome these weaknesses and to build areas of strength.

Each week the teacher writes a Study Record for the student to record what has been learnt. All students receive a report and certificate at the end of the course.

Living in a teacher's home with them and their family

Students on a Young Home Tuition course are looked after at all time by their teacher or the teacher's family. The teacher is legally responsible for the safety and welfare of the child.

A programme of activities is designed to suit the needs and interests of the child and lessons can be structured around their hobbies.

Exam Preparation

Our experienced Home Tuition teachers can design courses to help students prepare for English languages exams including: boarding school entrance, Cambridge exams, IELTS and university preparation.

Cultural Programmes

Each one of our locations offers our students the opportunity to visit local attractions and experience outdoor activities.

Professional English

Often clients wish to improve a specific professional activity such as report writing or negotiating skills. Sometimes students may need particular vocabulary and language structure associated with a certain industry or professional field. Our study programmes are carefully prioritised to help the student make the changes to their language performance that will provide the maximum benefit to them. Often one-to-one lessons are built around the clients personal goals including:

- using the telephone
- writing emails
- taking part in meetings
- making presentations
- negotiating
- writing reports
- using social English

Professional Weekends

We appreciate that time is valuable to our professional students which is why we can offer them a unique experience of an intensive weekend of English language training to fit in with their schedule; please contact us for more details.
