

♡ KINDNESS AND LOVE ♡

One day I was walking down the Street in Brighton, I met a beautiful woman who was looking at me, while she was waiting to cross the road, there was a car that was going too fast, and after that the car hit the beautiful woman. And the car was driven by a drunk woman and she was very beautiful too, after that I crossed the road very quickly, I didn't have time to do that's why I tried to help them and tried to solve that problem, and save her life.

After that I called the emergency service, told them where we were, the ambulance came at the right time, and I went with them to the hospital to help her, and when she woke up again, and the doctor had saved her life. After that she fell in love with me. Later she became mother of my sons, so this is the story of our love and kindness.

This is the story of who I met my wife. ♡

one day, there was a man lost in desert for three days. He was very thirsty and hungry. There wasn't anything alive in this desert because it's too hot and there wasn't water not just even plants wasn't there. The man went to the desert because he want explore it. He didn't tell anyone. The desert was very sandy and he went by car suitable. but his car stuck in sand. He tried once more but his car still stuck. He thought if I walk I'll find someone to help me but he walked a long time and didn't find anyone. He fell down and he said "I'll die". Suddenly, he saw a car but he can't walk. He shout "help me I'm here". The car was comming towards to him. Down form the car a man and saved him.

THE KINDNESS IN CLASSROOM

ONE UPON A TIME THERE WAS A CLASS WITH NINE STUDENTS. IT WAS A SPECIAL GROUP BECAUSE WHEN SOMEBODY WENT GOING INTO CLASSROOM THE STUDENTS WERE VERY HAPPY AND THEY HELPED EACH OTHER.

ALL PEOPLE HAD TO HAVE A POSITIVE ATTITUDE AND THE OTHER STUDENTS EXPLAINED THEIR HOMEWORK

SOME STUDENTS ENCOURAGED THE FRIENDS TO WORK HARD. THE OTHER PEOPLE SAID THE RIGHT WORDS AT THE RIGHT TIME.

THIS BEHAVIOUR WAS VERY KIND, AND ALL THE STUDENTS WERE HAPPY

done

Once upon a time, there was a King and Queen who ruled the Kingdom. One day a man wanted to see the King because he wanted to ask for help for buy some medicine for his mother because she is very sick.

When he arrived at the castle to ask for help the guard refused to let in to the castle because he wasn't rich, and only rich people can go inside the castle.

While the man was waiting near the castle he started to cry. The King saw the man who was crying and asked " why you crying "? and the man decided to tell his story to the King.

The King was shocked that his guard didn't wanted to bring the man inside the castle, and the King decide to take the man inside and help him.

The man is proud of the King because he realised that this King is very kind to his people.

In the end the man bought the medicine and helped his mother. The mother smiled when she get better she will visit the King and she say thank so much for helping me to feel better.

"The Old Women Trable"

Once upon a time me and my friend Martina we went to our friend flat. We had to wait for the lift for a long time. So we decided to find out what's the problem is. When we got closer to the lift we heard an old woman shouting "HILP!". We tried to open the door of the lift and finally! we did. We asked her if she was fine... , and we asked her "what's going on!". She told us that she was stucked in the lift. So we let her to sit on a chair and I went to buy for her some chocolate and water. Because we wanted her to calm down. And when she felt fine we took her to her flat. When we arrived to her flat we saw her daughter and we told her about what's happened. She told us "Thank you". She invited us to have a dinner together. But we can't because our friends were waiting for us. So we told her next time we will. Finally I called the caretaker and I told them about the lift.

(( A BLIND OLD MAN ))

Once upon a time me and my friend were walking in Brighton. We needed to go somewhere and we had to cross the road. We saw an old blind man in the middle of the road who fell down and a bus was coming. So we ran very quickly and helped the man to cross the road. He thanked us and asked us if we knew the way to the park. We led him to the park and we stayed there talking to him. He told us that his name was Peter and he was 83 years old. He had 3 sons and one daughter. But they didn't live in England. He told us that he usually came here to have some fresh air. Finally, we took him home and he showed us his dog "Bobi".
